Open the door to greater quality and value with Hager's FREE specification writing and architectural hardware consulting services.

Hager Companies has been opening the door to great value, innovative products and incomparable customer service for more than 150 years. That's why we are proud to add an important free service to the long list of advantages we offer our customers: Hager's new Architectural Hardware Consulting (AHC) services, including complete specification writing services.

Save your firm time and money by letting Hager write your door hardware specifications.

We realize how important it is for you to meet time-sensitive deadlines and strict budget requirements. When you use Hager's free specification writing services, it's easier to do both.

Hager saves you time because our in-house team creates your door hardware specifications for you, making you more profitable. What's more, Hager's specification writing experts can offer you another important benefit for your clients: a truly competitive product comparison that can amount to significant savings in the overall cost of your project's door hardware.

Hager gives you a truly objective spec you can trust.

Our in-house spec writing services guarantee you an objective specification every time. We don't just list the products we manufacture...we look at hardware that fits both the design and construction requirements of your project. So you get truly objective help in determining your door hardware needs.

When you compare the quality and value of Hager's 10 product categories, we're convinced you'll find our hardware the best choice. But whether or not we are selected, we feel that by offering you real choices and real comparisons, we will at the very least win your trust.

For prewritten specs online, visit www.reedfirstsource.com.

If you want to write your own specs, Hager can help make that easier for you as well. You'll find specifications for Hager's complete line of door hardware products online at reedfirstsource.com.

Your door hardware partners in design development.

Outstanding customer service is one of the many reasons Hager Companies has been in business for more than 150 years. In fact, it's that incomparable level of service from the most experienced pros in the business that makes Hager the perfect partner to help you determine your door hardware needs early in the design phase of your projects.

Our expertise in door hardware makes us more than a world-class manufacturer — it makes us a resource you can trust when you need new ideas, answers to questions, recommendations on meeting your budget, or simply an objective opinion. Partnering with Hager in your project's design phase can also lead to something else everyone loves: saving money.

From preparing budgets to reviewing and approving submitted schedules, we're here to help.

Here's how Hager's spec writing and consulting services resulted in significant savings for one firm's client...

Christner Architects in St. Louis, Missouri, was chosen by the Mother of Good Counsel Home to renovate its 43,000-square-foot skilled nursing facility, as well as adding a 9,600-square-foot tower to the facility's existing structure. With a very tight budget in which to work, Christner added Hager products to the project specification. Based on their premium quality yet competitive price, Hager products won the bid — a choice that ultimately saved the Mother of Good Counsel Home nearly 20% on its door hardware budget.

Hager's tradition of customer service continues into a third century...

Since 1849, Hager Companies has never lost sight of what is most important: the customer. Our founder Charles Hager knew that his business would not fail as long as he put his customers first. And more than 150 years later, that philosophy still continues to be a driving force in our day-to-day operations.

Hager descendants still own and operate Hager Companies with a hands-on approach that upholds our company's reputation for excellence. Family members — like all Hager employees — learn the door hardware business from the ground up. They get an education in product quality by learning the production process firsthand. They learn the value of customer service by working directly with clients. And they personally oversee the development of innovative new products that offer real value to our customers. Looking back, it's clear that this time-tested approach to doing business accounts for Hager Companies' enduring success.

It's easy to specify Hager's 6,000+ door hardware products from our 10 complete product lines.

Architectural Hinges

Hager is the premier designer and manufacturer of Architectural Hinges and hardware. Our complete line meets and exceeds ANSI standards, and is available in a wide variety of sizes, shapes and finishes.

Residential Hinges

Hager's complete line of Residential Hinges is available in a wide variety of sizes, shapes and finishes. Like our Architectural line of hinges, our Residential Hinges offer the highest quality, with consistently superior performance.

Locks

Hager locks fill the void between pricey premium locks and low-quality, inexpensive locks by offering superior construction at a competitive price. And they are the only locks on the market that are both ANSI/BHMA-certified and backed by a lifetime warranty.

Door Closers

Hager door closers bridge the gap between quality features and value pricing. Grade 1 closers are priced below other premium brands, yet they're the only closers in the industry that are both ANSI/BHMA-certified and backed by a lifetime warranty.

Exit Devices

Designed for durability, versatility and easy installation, Hager exit devices give you more for your money. Our complete line offers everything from reliable, value-priced standard-duty models to ANSI/BHMA-certified Grade 1 exit devices, backed by a lifetime warranty.

Thresholds & Weatherstripping

Hager offers a wide variety of standard and customizable thresholds and weatherstripping products for virtually any door application — each meeting ANSI-grade quality, durability and performance levels.

Sliding Door Hardware

Our full line of high quality, durable sliding door hardware is perfect for by-pass, bi-fold and pocket door applications. As always, a complete product line of ANSI quality products is available.

Roton Continuous Geared Hinges

Designed for superior performance in high-traffic areas, Roton uses a unique rotating joint — not a pin — to minimize lateral wear on the hinge, while evenly distributing door weight along the full length of the frame.

Stainless Steel Continuous Hinges

Heavy-duty Hager Stainless Steel Continuous Hinges stand up to the rigors of high-traffic, high-impact areas by evenly distributing door weight along the full length of the door, as well as eliminating localized stress on the frame.

Trim & Auxiliary

Hager's door control hardware and trim items feature custom applications, innovative designs and styles that last. Choose from over 200 different products, available in a variety of finishes and sizes to meet your every need.
