Hager Companies is closely monitoring the conditions in China and surrounding countries that are impacted by the Novel Coronavirus first detected in Wuhan, China. Hager's supply chain partners are NOT located in the restricted areas of Wuhan, Hubei province, China.

Since this is such a rapidly developing situation and status updates on the conditions change frequently, Hager has maintained consistent communication throughout our supply chain. We are actively assessing the readiness of each supplier chain partner to deal with several scenarios that may involve employees, transportation and sub-suppliers. The Hager team is also evaluating our inventory levels of products components produced in China to prioritize shipments should the need arise.

We hope that the efforts within China to contain and control the virus are successful in the short term. As always, we will continue to communicate if any changes are presented or if material supply threatens to delay orders.

Thank you for you continued support of Hager Companies,
