ENHANCED RESIDENTIAL PACKAGING

Hager Companies greatly appreciates your support and feedback, and we take your comments and suggestions very seriously. Our goal is to be the most reliable and customer collaborative supplier of residential, commercial and electromechanical products in the industry. It is in this spirit that we are excited to announce two enhancements designed for our residential products.

One Box Instead of Two

Fasteners included in rectangular packages will make Hager bulk residential hinges easier to order, receive, stack, and manage

Stronger Materials

Engineered pallet design will reduce freight related claims

Based on inventory movement these changes will be implemented during the next three to six months, and we sincerely appreciate your support during this transition phase. If you have any questions, please contact your local Hager sales representative.
